

Meeting Assistant

Join any video meeting from your pocket

Wouldn't it be good if you could easily and seamlessly join video meetings from anywhere at any time, while still enjoying the best quality possible.

The problem is, organizations around the world are adopting different video conferencing platforms such as Microsoft Skype for Business, Cisco Webex, Google Hangouts, Zoom, BlueJeans and others. This creates confusion and makes collaborating with your colleagues and partners more complex than it needs to be.

Well we have the answer! The Kinly Meeting Assistant makes it easier for you to work together, by enabling you to join any meeting without having to worry about the platform or technology being used – whether you're in a video meeting room, using a laptop or on a mobile device.

Join meetings on the fly

Meeting Assistant allows you to join video meetings in the way that suits you. Wherever you are, simply connect to the video room you've booked from Meeting Assistant – or just dial in from your phone if you're on the move. – and enjoy a seamless meeting experience. Working together has never been easier.

Manage your video meetings from your phone

Is someone struggling to join your meeting? Dial them in from Meeting Assistant on your phone. Need to mute a participant? Simply tap the mute button on your screen. Need to see who's in the your video meeting? Meeting Assistant gives you a full overview of participants. With Meeting Assistant, technology barriers are history, and simple video meetings are just one click away.

“More than 80% of people believe technology should make meetings easier and more productive”

Video meetings don't have to start late

Joining a video meeting can be quite a hassle. Which number do you need to dial to attend the meeting, how do you type in those long, hard to remember URLs using a touch screen or remote control? Use the Kinly Meeting Assistant and see for yourself just how easy meetings can be!

