

Smart Meeting Access for Microsoft Skype for Business

Smart Meeting Access for Skype for Business is an interoperability service which enables Microsoft® Skype™ for Business, Office 365, Lync® or Surface Hub users and users of videoconferencing solutions - of for instance Cisco, Polycom, TANDBERG or Life-size - to join the same Skype Meeting.

Skype for Business in daily work

In many organizations employees are now using Skype for Business in their daily work. They chat with colleagues, partners and customers. Set up audio calls, and often also video meetings and -calls using their desktop or laptop. However, the users of high quality videoconferencing cannot join the same meetings that Skype users join. That is where Smart Meeting Access comes into play. With Smart Meeting Access scheduling is done in the same way as before, but a dialing address for Video endpoints will be included in the invite, or video rooms invited to the meeting will get a one button to join the meeting experience. Bridging the worlds of traditional video conferencing and Skype for Business.

One common interface

Smart Meeting Access enables traditional video systems to dial into a Skype meeting ensuring one common management interface to control the meeting.

Your Skype meeting is the starting point

Simply schedule a Skype meeting as you're used to, nothing special is required from you. With Kinly Smart Meeting Access not only a Skype user can join the meeting, but virtually any other video-conferencing solution is able to join.

Designed for interoperability

Simply makes your Microsoft communications platforms interoperable with everything else— simple, easy, and quick. Simply connects Microsoft platforms with Cisco, Polycom, WebRTC, and everything else.

Simple & familiar

The native Skype for Business experience is retained, no matter what others are using.

Investment protection

With Smart Meeting Access investments already made in videoconferencing equipment are protected. Supports Microsoft Surface Hub Kinly Smart Meeting Access enables your Surface hub solutions to connect with other videoconferencing solutions.

Working together.
Everywhere

